KEI PUTA TE WAIRAU

Reconnecting whānau with whenua - Rangitāne whānau travelled from as far as Tamaki-makau-rau for this year's AGM. Pictured here with Te Taihū o Te Waka-ā-Māui, whānau also visited the Horton Street commercial site and Rangitāne House.

THE SUN ALWAYS SHINES ON THE WAIRAU

Final stages of the new Ōpaoa River Bridge project are nearing completion.

The project includes work to convert the existing heritage bridge to a walking and cycling facility which will join the Blenheim to Spring Creek pathway. A Pouwhenua will stand at the northern end of the bridge.

Rangitāne o Wairau have been working closely with Ngāti Toa Rangatira, Ngāti Rārua, Waka Kotahi (NZTA) and the Marlborough District Council on the Pouwhenua, landscaping and interpretation panels.

Award-winning local carver Reg Thompsett has been commissioned to carve the 7 metre Pouwhenua from a 600 year old Matai log which will "speak to the long history of the Wairau".

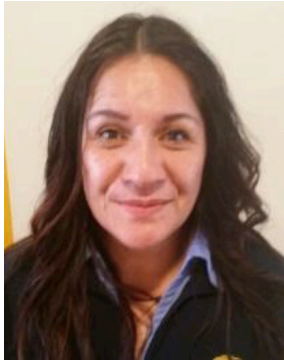

Kei puta te Wairau - New signage recently installed alongside the new Ōpaoa River Bridge on SH1.

The Pouwhenua is expected to be unveiled at a dawn ceremony which will be held at the end of November.

NAU MAI, HAERE MAI AMELIA

We welcome our new trustee Amelia Hollman (Taylor) to the board and welcome back trustees Riki Palatchie and Peter Meihana.

Amelia was elected for the one-year term in this year's Trustee election while Riki and Peter were re-elected for three-year terms.

Born and raised in Kaikōura, Amelia descends from her maternal great grandmother's line, Heeni Te Meeti (Jane Smith). Amelia's mother Haromi Taylor (Mason) ensured she remained connected to her roots and her whānau in the Wairau and Whakatū.

Amelia and her husband Julian Hollman have four tamariki and three mokopuna between them. Finding themselves totally isolated after the 2016 earthquake, Amelia and Julian made the decision to utilise their natural surroundings and started their business, Noa Naturals.

"We grow, harvest and supply kawakawa and horopito from our whenua in Oaro to high end restaurants throughout Aotearoa", says Amelia.

"I have watched Rangitāne achieve some remarkable feats. I believe that the skills I have acquired over my working years would be useful to Rangitāne going forward. A clear and strategic thinker, I have significantly reduced the operating costs while providing more benefits and innovation in the organisations I have been involved with", she says.

Amelia has a number of years experience in governance, including 7 years on the Nelson/Marlborough Department of Conservation board. She is a Kaikōura Māori Warden, Justice of the Peace, and has sat on Te Paihereanga (Ecan), Manawhenua (Ngāi Tahu Farming) and Te Korowai Advisory Group and is currently working at Whale Watch Kaikōura.

The final results of this year's Trustee Election are available on our website.

MANA AHUREA | OUR CULTURE

WAIRAU WĀNANGA AHUREA KI ŌTAUTAHĪ

Around 60 iwi members attended the recent hīkoi to Ōtautahi to visit taonga from Te Pokohiwi-o-Kupe that are currently being held at Canterbury Museum.

Whānau heard kōrero around sites of significance from Wayne Abbott and trustee Pete Meihana on the bus trip down, including Matariki Pā at Waiau Toa (Clarence River).

On Saturday, we were welcomed at the museum by Ngāi Tahu representatives and museum staff. Taonga were displayed on tables for whānau to view, with kaimahi on hand to offer kōrero on the artefacts. This was followed by a presentation on the DNA project led by Professor Lisa Matisoo-Smith and Dr Catherine Collins from Otago University. Whānau also heard kōrero from the repatriation of our tūpuna back to Te Pokohiwi-o-Kupe in 2009.

At whakawhanaungatanga later that afternoon, Pete shared kōrero about Rangitāne whakapapa. One of the highlights was when Pete was able to connect all the whānau in the room through our lineage.

Feedback from the weekend was extremely positive, whānau thoroughly enjoyed being able to reconnect with our taonga and each other. We hope to arrange another wānanga with this kaupapa for those who were unable to attend.

This wānanga was externally funded. We look forward to holding more Wānanga Ahurea around the motu next year.

MANA TAHUA | COMMERCIAL OPERATION

New offices for Marlborough Tour Company - Rangitāne were pleased to open the new Marlborough Tour Company offices on Level 3 at Rangitāne House earlier this month. The locally owned company has been in business since 1993 and is the largest tourism operator in Marlborough. The new offices mark a new milestone for the business and reflects the ambitious growth phase they are moving through. We are thrilled to have them as our newest tenant at Rangitāne House, which is now 100% occupied.

TREATMENT PLANT REVIEW UNDERWAY

In late 2009, Rangitāne and other Iwi signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) after being involved in consultation with Council since 2006 on proposals for upgrading the Blenheim Sewage Treatment Plant (BSTP).

The MOU included a provision for a review at ten years from the date of consent. The review is covered by condition 12 of the resource consent. This review is due now.

Condition 12 requires that "The consent holder shall undertake a best practice and further performance review of the BSTP 10 years after the commencement of the consents. The best practice review shall include, but not be limited to, research of available treatment technologies that would enable the removal of the discharge to the Wairau Estuary and improve the quality of the discharge."

The review will consider discharge and reuse options including:

- a new outfall to Te Koko-o-Kupe/Cloudy Bay
- Disposal to land
- Retaining the existing outfall with an improved effluent quality
- Removing the BSTP from its current location

In August we received from Council a preliminary report of the options. In September, Mayor John Leggett and CE Mark Wheeler met with Trustees to discuss next steps. It was agreed to retain Rawiri Faulkner (Tūtaiao) to draft a position statement for Rangitāne.

Although this review is at a very early stage, this position statement is critical to the outcome as it will guide the design of the upgraded BSTP.

Be assured our Trustees remain totally committed to removing the effluent from the BSTP into the Wairau Estuary. There will be consultation with members and regular progress reports on this very important issue.
